AN OLD WIFE'S SONG.

FROM WHAT CREWE.

And what will ye hear, my daughters dear?

What will ye hear this night?

Shall I sing you a song of the yuletide cheer,

Or of lovers and ladies bright?

"Thou shalt sing," they say, "for we dwell far away."

From the land where fain would we be.)

"Thou shalt sing us again some Old-world strain

That is sung in our own country.

"Thou shalt mind us so of the times long ago,

When we walked upon the upland lea,

While the old harbor light wailed faint in the white white.

Long rays shooting out from the sea,

"While lambs were yet asleep, and the dew lay deep

On the grass, and their fleeces clean and fair,

Never grass was seen so thick nor so green

As the grass that grew up there!

"In the town was no smoke, for none therer

At one fest it lay still as still could be;

And we saw far below the long river flow,

And the schooners e-waving out to see,

"Sing us now a strain shall make us feel again

As we felt in that sacred peace of morn,

When we had the first view of the wet sparkling dew,

In the shyness of a day just born."

So I sang an old song—it was plain and not long—

I had sung it very oft when they were small:

And long ere it was done they wept every one.

Yet this was all the song—this was all:

The snow lies white, and the moon gives light,

I'll out to the freezing free,

And ease my heart with one little song.

For none will be like me,

And it's o' my love, my love!

It's o' my dear, my dear!

It's o' her that I'll sing till the wild woods ring,

When nobody's sight to hear.

My love is young, she is young,

When she laughs the dimple dips,

Weed in the sun, and the long locks blow,

Till now—Poor!—she touched my lips,

And I'll out to the freezing free,

Where the stiff reeds whistle so low,

And I'll tell my mind to the friendly wind,

Because I have loved her so.

Ay, and she's true, my lady is true!

And that's the best of it;

And when she blushes my heart so yearns,

Those tears are ready to fall,

And it's o' my love, my love!

It's o' my dear, my dear!

It's o' her that I'll sing till the wild woods ring,

When nobody's sight to hear.

THE BLUE AND THE GRAY.

"The women of Columbus, Mississippi, have shown themselves impartial in their offering made to the memory of the dead. They strewed flowers alike on the graves of confederate and of the national soldiers."—New York Tribune.

Mr. Colebrook was dead. He was a rich man, yet a slight acquaintance with him would have convinced even a superficial observer that he was not a healthy man. He was misanthropic in his views though he had the reputation in the street of being a very kind-hearted and honest man.

THAT ARRANGEMENT.

We find the following in the deposition of Col. J. J. TRUE in the case of McKEE vs. YOUNG:

"I have heard it said that he (McKEE) not to go to West Liberty, in Morgan county, or to Prestonsburg, in Floyd county, as there had been made that he would not be allowed to speak at those points. I have heard GREENUP, HICKEL, etc., in the presence of SAMUEL McKEE and others, that the rebels of Morgan county had threatened violence against McKEE if he attempted to speak at West Liberty, and that he (HICKEL) had made an arrangement with the sheriff of Morgan county to preserve the peace, but that he feared there would be a disturbance."

Perhaps it will serve to throw some light upon this "arrangement" to detail a statement made to us by Major W. H. COX, who is the sherriff alluded to. He was laughing at the idle reports circulated by McKEE and his friends that he would not be permitted to speak at various points. He denounced these reports as wholly despicable for political capital. He said that the Democrats believed it was McKEE's wish to provoke a disturbance, and they were determined he should not be gratified.

Major COX further stated that a few days before he had met one GREENUP NICHOLL of Carter or Rowan county, who told him that he had heard a report that the secessionists did not intend to permit McKEE to speak at West Liberty, and that he (NICHOLL) intended to bring an armed band of more than a hundred men from Carter and Rowan counties, to protect McKEE. Major COX told NICHOLL that he had never heard of any intention to molest McKEE, and did not believe any such existed or had ever been declared by any Democrat. NICHOLL spoke of it merely as a report, of the correctness of which he knew nothing; that he had heard it from McKEE's friends; but if COX said he did not know of any such plan then he (NICHOLL) would remain at home with his armed posse.

Cox reiterated his conviction that there was no intention to molest McKEE, and expressed the wish which he knew to be universal with the Democrats of Morgan, that the canvass should be fair and free; and with this NICHOLL was satisfied. Here the matter ended, and this was the whole of the extensive "arrangement" between NICHOLL and the sheriff for the "preservation of the peace at West Liberty." If they had only known the miraculous power of Captain McKEE's bold effort, and the awe inspiring influence of the presence of Col. TRUE and Captain ROBERTS they might not have thought it necessary to make an arrangement so expensive.

THE NEGOTIATIONS CONCLUDED.

Another important step has been taken in the prosecution of the enterprise of completing the Maysville and Lexington Railroad. On Saturday JAMES BARBOUR proceeded to Covington for the purpose of having an interview with the owners of the road, and he was followed on Sunday by H. T. PEARCE, Esq., and Hon. R. H. STANTON. On Monday these gentlemen had an interview with the owners of the road, who promptly conceded all that was asked and all that could have been asked with any reason. Legislation was agreed upon to carry into effect the proposition made by the owners and accepted by the subscribers and the people of Mason county, in its true intent and meaning, and this legislation will be acceptable to every friend to the completion of the road. So soon as it has been acted upon by the Legislature the transfer will be made, and the charter, road bed, right of way and all the property and appurtenances belonging thereto from the city of Maysville to the city of Paris will belong to and be under the control of the people of this county, or such portion of them as are and may become stockholders in the road. Under the stipulations agreed upon the road is given to that point in Paris which is the junction of the Maysville and Lexington and Covington and Lexington railroads, which is to be the terminus of our road. The stockholders in the new enterprise are to be incorporated under the name of the "Maysville and Lexington Railroad Company, Northern Branch." It is expressly stipulated that the Company shall have the privilege of running their cars to Lexington over the road of the present owners on terms mutually satisfactory, and in this there is to be a reciprocal courtesy extended.

THE SUBSCRIPTION MADE.
The friends of the railroad enterprise have reason to congratulate themselves that it was not slaughtered by the malice and knavery of its enemies on yesterday. It had a most narrow escape from an unnatural and premature death. We have not time in this issue to comment upon the action of the County Court. Suffice it to say, the subscription has been made. The conditions annexed to the collection of the tax are needless and frivolous, but they can be easily fulfilled.

HON. THOMAS A. HENDRICKS was nominated for Governor of Indiana by the Democratic Convention of Indianapolis, on the 8th inst. The resolutions adopted were strongly in favor of the PENDLETON policy of paying the Government bonds in greenbacks, making them subject to taxation, and retiring the National Bank circulation. Mr. PENDLETON himself was endorsed with "the entire confidence and preference" of the Convention, as a Presidential candidate.

be still further ruined. The Yankee manufacturer is to be still further enriched.

Our excellent contemporary of the Lexington Statesman is respectfully informed that the editor of the EAGLE expects to continue to advocate conservative principles in Kentucky, and were he to advocate principles of any other character he would be untrue to himself and his own convictions. An abandonment of these principles will not be required in advocating the election of Democratic candidates for President and Vice President, upon a platform recognizing the indissolubility of the Union and the right of the States to regulate and control their own social and domestic institutions and internal and municipal police. On the contrary these are the very foundation of conservatism.

The EAGLE advocated the election of McCLELLAN and PENDLETON in 1861 without a sacrifice of principles or individual consistency, and it can argue the election of Democratic candidates in 1868 without any such sacrifice. We do not apprehend the nomination of candidates whom we cannot consistently and conscientiously support. It is true that a great many men who were rebels during the war will vote with us this year, but that does not affect the question one way or the other. We never saw a man so mean that we did not like to see him acting right occasionally. The Statesman may always rely upon finding us battling against radicalism, which is the worst sort of democracy.

OHIO DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

It is a matter of satisfaction that the deliberations of the State Convention of the Ohio Democracy at Columbus, on Wednesday last, resulted in the defeat of the VALDIGHIAN faction. Hon. H. J. JEWETT, a war Democrat and a true and tried patriot, was elected President of the Convention. On the Committee on resolutions, we recognize the names of Colonel GEORGE W. MCCOOL and OSCAR F. MOORE, both of whom fought gallantly in the Federal army, and who have no sympathy with the faction in Ohio whose efforts to "pull to the lead" have resulted in defeating the Democrats of that State. A preference was expressed for GEOORGE H. PENDLETON over the Committee on Elections, reported that Hon. L. S. TURNER is entitled to the seat as Representative from the First Kentucky District. Action on the report was postponed in order to allow Mr. SYMES, the contestant, an opportunity to be heard on the question. There is no doubt but that the report of the Committee will be adopted by Congress, and there will then remain only the cases of Jony Y. BROWN and JOHN D. YOUNG to be acted upon.

On Wednesday, 8th, in the Senate, Mr. MORTON offered a resolution instructing the Judiciary Committee to report a bill amending, and providing provisional governments for the lately rebellious States, until reconstructed under the existing acts of Congress. Objection was made, and the bill was laid over under the rules. The bill to prevent the further contraction of the currency was made the special order for Thursday.

In the House, on the same day, the Senate amendments to the bill repealing the cotton tax were taken from the Speaker's table, and referred to the Committee on Ways and Means. The House proceeded to the consideration of the report of the Election Committee on the contested case of the Sixth Congressional District of Missouri, which closes with resolutions that Mr. BIRCH, the contestant, is not entitled to a seat, and that Mr. VAN HORN, the sitting member, is so entitled. Mr. BROOMALL offered a resolution, directing the Committee on Ways and Means to inquire into the expediency of immediately abolishing the internal revenue tax on manufactures of cotton, wool, iron and steel. Adopted. He also asked leave to offer a resolution reciting that the vote recently given in the House on the question of impeachment of the President was liable to be construed into an affirmation of the position of the minority of the Judiciary Committee on the law of impeachment, and be thereby drawn into a precedent not sanctioned by the judgment of the House, and resolving that, in the opinion of the House, the power of impeachment of public officers for official misconduct was not limited to those offenses that are indictable under the laws of the United States. Mr. ELDRIDGE objected, and the resolution was not received.

On Friday the Senate spent the entire day on the House bill to suspend the contraction of the currency, but came to no vote on the question. Mr. EDWARDS offered an amendment, the vote on which is significant. It provided that nothing contained in this act or any other existing act shall be so construed as to authorize an increase of United States notes or other lawful money beyond the amount now outstanding, except to the amount of fifty millions of the reserve of United States notes already authorized by law. After some debate it was rejected by a vote of 17 yeas to 33 nays. Mr. SEEMAN moved to recommit the Funding Bill, reported by himself from the Finance Committee, back to that committee, and it was so ordered. On the same day the House proceeded with the discussion of the bill relating to whisky marters. After a lengthy debate the bill was passed.

The Speaker presented a message from the President, transmitting a report from the Secretary of State in response to a resolution inquiring as to the State Legislature which had ratified the proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States, known as the fourteenth article. Referred to the Committee on Judiciary. The report says the States which have ratified the amendment are New Hampshire, Tennessee, New Jersey, Oregon, New York, Illinois, West Virginia, Nevada, Indiana, Missouri, Minnesota, Rhode Island, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Massachusetts, Kansas, and Nebraska. The House proceeded to the consideration of the report of the Committee on Elections on the contested election case of the first Congressional District of Kentucky, which report closes with a resolution that SYMES, the contestant, is not entitled to the seat, and that TRIMBLE, who holds the seat, is. After three hours' discussion, the resolution was adopted and TRIMBLE took the oath and the seat.

THE KENTUCKY LEGISLATURE.

The General Assembly met on Wednesday, 8th, but transacted no business in either House except ordering the firing of a salute in honor of the anniversary of the battle of New Orleans.

On Thursday, 9th, the Senate rejected a house bill to change the boundary line of the Owingsville and Mud Lick voting Precincts, in Bath county. The Senate passed a resolution to raise a committee to investigate the solvency of the Kentucky Insurance Company. Leave was granted to Mr. AXELSON to introduce a bill to amend the charter of the Maysville and Mt. Sterling Turnpike Road Company, also a bill to charter the Mount Carmel and Fox Spring Turnpike

Road Company, to Fleming county.

On the same day, the House considered the preamble and resolution from the Senate, in relation to the Kentucky Insurance Company.

Said preamble and resolution reads as follows, viz:

"Whereas, the people of this State are largely insured in the office of the Kentucky Insurance Company, chartered by act of a former Legislature, and serious doubts are entertained as to the solvency of said company and its liabilities; owing to the fact that, by its charter, it was not required to have any cash capital, and that all its cash premiums on policies have been exhausted, and that said company is now making a call of fifty per cent, or one half on its premium notes, on policies having four years yet to run, and at its present rate of calls will exhaust all its capital in premium notes within one year from this date, leaving unexpired policies of three years to run without any guarantee that one dollar of the losses of said company will be paid."

Now, in order to ascertain the true and real situation of said company, and to do justice to said company, its policy-holders, and the State at large,

It is the will of the people of this State for us to stand on ceremonies, or call for terms from a party which unites with us in support of our national candidates? We think not. The country lies prostrate and bleeding. Our brethren of the South are crushed and starving. We must rush to the rescue. These momentous interests demand a forthrightness of all personal or lesser considerations. We should rise above all partialities and discharge this great duty, with an eye single to the good of our country.

We therefore concur with the Central Committee or the Union Democracy that no separate convention should be called, but that all Democrats and Conservatives should unite at once, fully and cordially, with their fellow Democrats, whose convention has been called, and join in the primary meetings to select delegates to the 22d of February convention at Frankfort. That convention will nominate a candidate for Governor, and appoint delegates to the national convention; also, designate Democratic electors for the coming national contest. Let us stand shoulder to shoulder, and hand to hand, with all who sincerely desire the overthrow of the Radical party, the restoration of the Southern States, and the establishment of the principle that this is the white man's government. Until this great work be accomplished we will not turn aside to quarrel about minor differences. This great work demands the united support of all its friends. Ours shall not be withheld.

The question being taken, said preamble and resolution were adopted.

It was determined to go into the election of Public Printer, Binder and Librarian, on Wednesday, 15th inst.

In the Senate, on Friday, 10th, a House bill was passed to amend the law in reference to certain school districts in this Commonwealth. Also an act to amend an act to establish an Institution for Idiots and Feeble minded children, GEORGE PONDexter and S. E. TRICE were confirmed as managers of the Western Lunatic Asylum.

In the House on the same day, Messrs. GREEN, BROWNE, BRIGHT, READ and DAVIS were appointed as a committee to examine into the condition of the Kentucky Insurance Company. Leave was granted to E. C. PRISTER to introduce a bill to incorporate the Licking River Lumber and Mining Company.

The House passed a bill defining the Mt. Sterling voting precinct, in Montgomery county.

A bill was passed allowing witnesses one dollar for each day's attendance on any legal occasion. The Senate resolution appointing a committee to inquire into the expediency of granting State aid to railroads, was referred to the Committee on Internal Improvements.

The National Democracy.

THEIR PLATFORM.

At a meeting of the Central Committee of the Union Democracy, at Louisville, January 8, 1868, in pursuance of the call heretofore published, the following resolutions were adopted, viz:

Resolved, That it is unnecessary for us to declare what are and what are not Democratic principles. They are too well understood to need such declaration. It is enough to say that neither secession nor reconstruction are Democratic ideas. Democracy is UNION AND RESTORATION, and except upon these ideas, no party can, nor will, nor should obtain power in this Government. Believing that these views are held by a vast majority of the people of Kentucky, who have acted and are now acting with the two Democratic organizations of this State, we see no necessity for a further combination of both of said organizations; therefore be it further

Resolved, That we recommend that all persons opposed to the Radical party now in power, attend the Democratic primary meetings already called, and yet to be called, in the several counties, and unite in sending delegates to the convention to assemble in the city of Frankfort on the 22d February, prox., for the purpose of nominating a candidate for the office of Governor; and sending delegates to the Democratic National Convention, and for the nomination of a Democratic electoral ticket.

Resolved, That we recommend that all persons to the Radical party, now in power, attend the Democratic primary meetings already called, and yet to be called, in the several counties, and unite in sending delegates to the convention to assemble in the city of Frankfort on the 22d February, prox., for the purpose of nominating a candidate for the office of Governor; and sending delegates to the Democratic National Convention, and for the nomination of a Democratic electoral ticket.

Fellow Democrats and Conservatives of Kentucky:

There are two Democratic parties in Kentucky, each looking to one great national convention, and avowing their readiness and determination to submit to its action and support its nominees. One of those parties, from circumstances that need not be referred to, is strong in numbers and full of energy.

The other, comparatively small in numbers, is composed largely of men in whose wisdom, patriotism and integrity the whole people have the fullest confidence.

Those two parties claim to be in full affiliation with the Northern Democracy and Conservative, and will each support the ticket presented by the national convention. It is of the utmost importance, in the judgment of each of these parties, that all their influence and moral force shall be combined to secure the election of that ticket; for it is in the interest of the whole people in this country to have a strong and powerful government.

WEEKLY MAYSVILLE EAGLE.
MAYSVILLE, KY., JANUARY 15, 1868.

Proceedings of the City Council.—MAYVILLE, KY., January 2, 1868.—The Board met pursuant to standing order, President W. H. Granaghan in the chair. The roll was called, all the members being present except Messrs. Orr, Campbell, Long, Bridges and Pogue. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The Mayor's, Marshal's, Treasurer's, Wharfmaster's, Auctioneer's and the School Committee's reports were each read and received.

Upon motion a vote of thanks was tendered by the Board to the School Committee for the efficient and diligent manner in which they have performed their duty.

A communication was presented, asking the Board to help defray the expenses of the Rail Road Torchlight Procession. Upon motion the Clerk was instructed to draw an order on the Treasurer for $400, for said purpose.

The following accounts were taken up and allowed, viz:

John Burns, labor and hauling on streets..... $10 20

Thos. Wallace, boarding city paupers..... 42 25

Maysville Gas Co., gas account for Dec. 265 10

John A. Mitchell, board for market house..... 7 50

Seaton & Brodrick, drags fees..... 2 50

W. S. Beaumont, buying city pauper..... 5 75

An account in favor of George W. Orr, amounting to $18.17 for lumber, was presented, and upon motion it was referred to the Committee on Claims and Accounts.

The President reported that he had purchased some coups from Mr. H. Taylor, at fifty cents on the dollar, to the amount of $230, and he presented the same to the Board Committee to be destroyed.

The matter in regard to getting homes for the two children in the Alms House, was reported as settled.

Upon motion the Alms Committee was discharged from further consideration on the subject in regard to the quota of money coming from the State for the support of negro paupers.

Upon motion the City Engineer was given further time in which to make an accurate survey of the Fifth Ward, and make a written report to the Board of all persons occupying any of the property belonging to the city in said Ward.

The Committee on Internal Improvements were, upon motion, given further time to have the racks on Market street repaired.

The Committee appointed to confer with an advisory committee of the Neptune Fire Company in regard to purchasing a first class hand engine for the use of the Company, was, upon motion, given further time.

The Committee on Internal Improvements reported that they had repaired Limestone street, and also the alley between the Methodist church and Dr. W. H. Granaghan's residence.

Upon motion the Committee appointed to lease the City Hall to the Washington Fire Company, was discharged.

Upon motion the Committee was discharged from further consideration on the subject in regard to the matter of allowing Thomas Wallace three dollars a week for boarding city paupers.

The Committee on Ordinances presented the following ordinance which was, upon motion adopted, viz:

Be it ordained by the Board of Councilmen of the City of Maysville.—That at the annual city election to be held on Monday the 6th day of January, 1868, the question shall be submitted to the voters of said city as to whether or not the Legislature shall be petitioned to so amend the charter of the city of Maysville and after the 1st of January, 1869, the marshal, assessor, and city clerk shall be appointed by the board of councilmen instead of being elected by the people as heretofore.

The year and day being called for it resulted as follows: Yeas, Newell, Wallingford, Broderick, Rains, Smith, Vanden, Pogue, Bridges—9. Nays, W. H. Granaghan—1.

An account in favor of Pogue, Duke & Co., amounting to $70 88 for coal and rock was presented, and upon motion $35 for rock was allowed and the balance was referred to the Committee on Alms.

Upon motion the city engineer was instructed to make a plot of the market house and number the stalls inside and outside and furnish it to the Treasurer.

Upon motion the meeting adjourned.

Col. Custis' whose exploits during the late war are remembered by none so distinctly as those persons to whom they were conversationally detailed during his brief stay in this city, made a daring raid a few nights since upon a jewelry store, and having stolen all that he could conveniently carry, as silently stole away.

If this paragraph should meet the eyes of "Col. Custis" he will be good enough to understand that "stole" is here used in a purely Pickwickian sense; and we make this explanation lest Gen. Beauregard, misconstruing our statement, should make it the basis of a slanderous attack upon the gallant "Colonel."

The "Colonel" will be gratified to learn that he is the subject of daily enquiry among his old friend, and that every effort is being made to ensure his speedy return. From too intimate association with General Beauregard the Colonel has fallen into a vicious habit of taking "French leave"—a comparatively harmless habit when one takes nothing else, but unhappily this is not always the case. Some of our citizens are of opinion that a little penitential restraint would exercise a favorable influence upon this unfortunate habit of the chivalric militaire.

Leap Year.—Young ladies and others of the feminine persuasion, will remember that this is Bisextile or Leap Year, and that the customs of old accord to them certain privilages, not warranted in other years. Now is the time to look up a husband. Plenty of young men will be ready and willing to accept your choice and "pop the question."

Meantime, we would advise the young men who are candidates for matrimony, to try and put themselves up in all the practical qualifications necessary to make good husbands.

230,650 to be Again Distributed.—The satisfaction given by our "Holiday Drawing" induces us on the 16th of January, to again place before the public, the same uninsured chance to gain a fortune. The Capital Prize, $50,000, was drawn by a citizen of Charleston, S. C., in our drawing of Dec. 31st. Price of Tickets as before. Wholes, $12; Halfs, $6; Quarters, $3. Remittances to any other parties will not be invested in this Lottery. Address as usual, the authorized State Managers, Murray, Eddy & Co., Covington, Ky.

Carriages.—In another column we publish the advertisement of Messrs. Allen & Burroughs, who carry on the business of making and repairing all kinds of wheeled vehicles, at their manufactory on Second street, south side, between Sutton and Wall. Both gentlemen have extended experience in their business, to which they give close attention, and in the prosecution of which they have won and deserved good reputations. Give them a call.

A Protest.—Our Paris contemporaries having fallen into the habit of dubbing the editor of this paper "Colonel," he desires respectfully to protest against the repetition of the outrage. He has never served in any army, been connected with a militia organization, or been appointed aid to any Governor. He has done nothing to deserve the title or merit such treatment at the hands of his editorial brethren or the public. Please stop it.

The Mule Trade.—The Clarke County Democrat says that H. D. Sutherland left last Monday for the South, where he has a large lot of mules in the market. We understand that it is his intention to bring them back to Kentucky if prices do not shortly improve. He has been very successful in business for several years, and always has the best wishes of our community for his continued prosperity.

Upon their petitions, Coffee House licenses were granted to the following persons, upon their compliance with the laws in such cases made and provided:

Louis Schatzman, Thomas Clooney, W. P. Watkins, Thomas Nicholson, J. A. Longbridge, & Co F. Schatzman, Baltus Frey, E. Lambden, G. & H. Wheeler, Louis Hollings, Hawkeye & Bramel, Mrs. Sallie Miller, Martin Hanley, Isaac Nelson, W. C. Eitel, W. J. Ross & Co., M. Dillon, Godfrey Miller, John Dinger, J. F. Bendale,

Upon motion Hotel license was granted to W. H. Wallingford as soon as he presents his petition to the board for the same.

An account was presented in favor of R. W. & W. P. Watkins amounting to $63 60 for the stone for the wall on the lower grade and upon motion the account was allowed and the clerk was instructed to draw an order for the amount.

Upon motion it was ordered that orders be drawn upon the Treasurer for the 4th quarter salaries of the city officers.

Upon motion the attention of the Committee on Internal Improvements was called to the bank near Hiram Tell's property in the Fifth Ward.

Recovering.—We are glad to learn that the little son of Mrs. Alexander, who was so badly burned on new year's day, by the explosion of some powder with which he was playing, is rapidly recovering from his injuries. He will not lose his sight or be otherwise permanently harmed.

An account against Wm. Cummings for tuition was presented and upon motion it was placed in the hands of the marshal for collection.

Upon motion the Committee on Internal Improvements were given further time in regard to having the alley running from 3d to 4d streets in the rear of Geo. W. Sulser's property repaired.

Upon motion the committee on Internal Improvements were instructed to have sidewalks made on the cross streets in the Fifth Ward.

Upon motion the Alms Committee were instructed to give the woman living in Gravelly alimony two dollars a week.

A motion was made and carried that a vote of thanks be tendered to the Committee on Internal Improvements for the efficient manner in which they have discharged their duty.

A motion was made that the chairman of the committee on Internal Improvements be allowed one hundred dollars, which motion was lost.

The Committee on Ordinances presented the following ordinance which was adopted, viz:

Be it ordained by the Board of Councilmen of the City of Maysville.—That the Councilmen adopted January 19th, 1867, allowing compensation to the chairman or superintendent of the committee on Internal Improvements be, and the same is hereby repealed.

Upon motion the meeting adjourned until Thursday night, at 7 o'clock.

MAYSVILLE, KY., Friday, Jan. 31, '68.

The board met pursuant to a call made.

President G. W. McGranaghan in the chair. The roll was called, all the members being present except Messrs. Orr, Campbell, Long, Bridges and Pogue.

Upon motion a vote of thanks was tendered to the Board to the School Committee for the efficient and diligent manner in which they have performed their duty.

A communication was presented, asking the Board to help defray the expenses of the Rail Road Torchlight Procession. Upon motion the Clerk was instructed to draw an order on the Treasurer for $400, for said purpose.

The following accounts were taken up and allowed, viz:

John Burns, labor and hauling on streets..... $10 20

Thos. Wallance, boarding city paupers..... 42 25

The King is Dead!—Long Live the King!—On last Thursday evening the Council Chamber was crowded almost to suffocation by citizens eager to witness the death throes of the old City Council, and to note the mysterious processes by which, even in the moment of dissolution, it renewed the phenomena and resumed the functions of a complex organic life.

It is impossible to conceive of a spectacle more unwholesome condition of the atmosphere of the chamber—which was thick with promiscuous fleshly emanations, and tremulous with the fierce calorific of well-fed stoves—the hungry expectants sat as if spell-bound by the striking developments of the hour. That the spectacle was not altogether a novel one did not seem to abate in the slightest degree this general feeling of interest; for though the phenomenon of conciliar transmigration has been repeated annually under infinitely varying circumstances ever since Mayville loomed into corporate existence, there has never been an occasion within our recollection when popular interest seemed to concentrate itself with more intensity upon the deliberations of this important representative body. There was something almost pathetic in the closing scenes. The individual elements of which the body was composed could with difficulty realize the gravity of the impending
